

In loving memory of
Steve Casanova

The Minnesota Network of Latinos in Higher Education mourns the recent loss of Steve Casanova, professor of Ethnic Studies at St. Cloud State University. He passed away after being recently diagnosed with cancer.

Steve served on the board of MNLHE as the first Central Region representative between 2007 and 2008. He was one of the earliest supporters of MNLHE and his great work made the Central Region one of our most active chapters.

He was a role model for his students and a respected colleague among his peers. He will be missed immensely.

En paz descanse.
